Response to Amendment

This action is in response to the request for reconsideration file don 7/25/05.

As per applicant's request claims 1-10, 30-40 and 43 have been considered but they are not persuasive.

Claims 1-10, 30-40 and 43 stand rejected under 35 USC 102(e) as being unpatentable over

Moore et al USPN 6,349,404.

In the remarks applicant argues,

I) "Identifying and modeling one or more business processes with one or more steps to each business process and identifying data relating to each step".

II) "Designing and creating at least one database for storing data database being shared by software service".

III) "Initiation, visualization, specification, design and implementation".

In response to applicant's arguments,

I) It was noted that cited reference fairly suggests identifying and modeling one or more business processes with one or more steps to each business process and identifying data relating to each step as figure 3 depicts in detail by creating new business process by using modeling approach as business objects column 4 lines 21-47 supports that. Cited reference also suggest that there is a strong relationship between business process and data is depicted on column 7, lines 23-39 representing that there is relationship 1 to many etc. as it always created in data modeling. Thus limitations are met by the reference.

Art Unit: 2193

- II) It was also noted that reference also suggest designing and creating database for storing purpose which can be shared (figures 1 and 4) depict that reference has mentioned about storing data which can be shared (see column 5, lines 32-36).
- III) Cited reference also suggest (see figures 3-6) in form of use case diagram which implies that use is initiating the process of creating a new application as business process demands and providing detail specifications for each business object has been created in the model as figure 4 representing therefore, each business process an be visualized in modeled formed before its get implemented as shown in figure 6. Therefore, limitations are by the reference.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
